Barden diffuses complaints about cable

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Cable television entrepreneur Don Barden has silenced critics and apparently appeased Romulus residents concerned with the rate of progress of cable television hook-ups in the city.

Barden said at a special public hearing last Wednesday that his company, Barden Cablevision of Romulus, would have the entire city wired for cable on or near the Sept. 1 deadline. Approximately 400 homes are wired presently for possible hook-up to the pay television service, with over 200 subscribing.

The company has five months left in its 18-month franchise agreement to wire in excess of 8,000 homes or face a possible penalty of $1,000 a day, according to Romulus cable commission chairman Claude Ray Williams.

The special hearing had been ordered by resolution of the City Council to update the administration and council of the progress—or lack of it—of the wiring of the city. Members of the city's cable commission also were required to attend.

Barden took the offensive during his 25-minute presentation, denouncing his critics on the council and noting that his company was the only one willing to take on the wiring of Romulus when, during the bidding process, the two companies chosen ahead of Barden dropped out after reassessing the amount of cable needed to wire the entire city.

"I wonder," said Barden, "whether you (city officials) will still be so concerned, will you go out and intervene when someone won't pay their bill? Remember, after the other companies dropped out, you sent us a letter saying 'please, Mr. Barden, reconsider us.'"

Half full at the 7 p.m. meeting start, the chamber was filled to near capacity halfway through Barden's presentation, after which he was quizzed by council members, some of whom apologized for the meeting being called "without even supplying Mr. Barden with a detailed agenda so he could be prepared," according to Councilman Jimmie Raspberry. Afterwards, residents were given an opportunity to ask Barden or members of the cable commission questions about the wiring of their city, but no one spoke.

Looking around the chambers, Barden began by stating "I am really amazed at all the attention this has gotten. We have big city newspapers and television crews here. Maybe," Barden said, "pretty soon we can start charging admission."

Barden added that due to the attention given to cable in "the local newspaper," even the national news media have picked up on the Romulus situation.

"I ask myself why there is such an uproar from some members of the city council, and I know the answer," Barden said. "This is an election year, and because of the high visibility of my name, people can say this or that about Barden and get their name in the news."

Councilman Pete Bergeron, who previously had stated that he and the council "had bent over backwards to accommodate" the cable company "but just can't do it anymore," told Barden Wednesday that he "didn't want to insinuate that I'm willing to let you off the hook, but if you can't finish by the current timetable, please let us know so we can tell the people."

"I understand that you have until the end of August and I try and tell the people that, but if that date is changed, then it puts more pressure on us," said Bergeron.

Barden responded by saying "When is that election?" jokingly adding that "we'll make sure we're done by election time."

Queried by Councilman Bill Wadsworth, Barden assured council that they would have "most of the city wired by the contracted date."

Wadsworth, who said that getting cable straightened out was one of the main reasons he ran for council, told Barden "my problem is that we had a meeting very much like this one in December of 1983 where we were told pretty much the same thing, how fast things would be going from that point on and now, over two years later there's what, 200, 250 homes hooked up?"

Councilman Alan Lambert told Barden that he "thinks there is a big communication problem. People call me or come up to me and say 'Councilman Lambert, can you do something, I called Barden Cablevision and they can't tell me why I can't get cable yet or when I can expect it'. They can't get answers."

Don Barden, owner of Barden Cablevision, provides city officials with an update on the progress of cable television hookups in the city.

Barden responded by saying that people should contact him directly, and added that he has promptly returned all phone calls from the administration and council. Some members of council and Mayor Beverly McAnally have claimed otherwise in the past. Raspberry said "that's right, you've always responded. I think the 'persons' on council that claim to get so many phone calls from residents should have the courage to tell those callers that Mr. Barden put up $50,000 of good faith money which we have in the bank."

"I've been in office for 29 years now, so I suppose I'm pretty well known, but I have received only two calls from residents about cable, while one of our members, who has an unlisted telephone number claims to have gotten over 20."

Cable commission member James Panek said, "In reference to what Mr. Raspberry said, I'm in agreement with him. We've been meeting every month for a year-and-a-half and we—the cable commission—have received a total of four calls. I'm in agreement that there has been no violation of the franchise contract."

Barden cited several delay-causing factors, such as being forced by the original agreement to buy property on Wick Road, which was later found to have an underground river beneath it, problems with citizens refusing to allow cable laid over their property, "and now we find out that our new site, the old bank building on Huron River Drive has a toxic gas leak somewhere, which has forced the office to close at times and which city officials cannot find the source of." Barden added that "in fact, we can ask for a time extension if there are delays beyond our control."

Barden admitted to the city council that after hearing rumors of dissatisfaction from the administration and council, he had work in Romulus cut back.

"Yes," Barden told the council, "we slowed up. We slowed up because we wanted to find out what the intentions are here before we sink hundreds of thousands of dollars more into the city." McAnally said recently that her administration was "looking into possible alternatives that are available to us," regarding the cable television situation.

Mayor Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks questioned Barden's remarks citing the cold weather ("six to eight weeks of below (freezing weather)") and the unique layout of the city boundaries as problem areas.

"Those shouldn't be factors," she said. "We were aware of those things before you signed the agreement and so were you. We just want to know where you are in the wiring process right now, which directions you will be going in, things like that."

McAnally took exception to some of Barden's statements, saying that "this administration has bent over backwards time and time again to accommodate you, and I'm more than a little upset that you let progress drop off because of something you heard that may or may not have been true."

"But," McAnally said, "I think that we should be prepared, that if you feel (at a later date) that you'll have problems, we have to have alternatives, because our duty is to our residents, to see that they get cable television if they want it."

Barden concluded his remarks by saying that, since things were now cleared up, Barden Cablevision of Romulus would "proceed and shift back into high gear," which he said would take "about a week."

"We can go pretty fast when we want to," Barden said.

Rotary Club seeks applicants

The Romulus Rotary Club is looking for a worthy recipient for its annual Ed Baum Memorial Scholarship, a $1,000 award given to a graduating high school senior desiring to pursue advance studies.

The award is based primarily upon a student's academic achievement record, school and community involvement, and financial need, according to current Rotary president Gerry Gomes.

To be eligible, applicants must carry a grade-point average of at least 3.5 and include a high school transcript along with several written teacher recommendations. The scholarship is available to residents of Romulus including those attending private or parochial schools.

The award is named in honor of Edward Baum, Jr. who served the Romulus community schools for more than 24

Baum began his career in education in 1957 as the head coach of the track and cross-country teams and assistant football coach. In 1964, Baum was appointed to the position of athletic director.

In 1976, Baum was made assistant principal of South Junior High School, a position he held until his death from cancer at the age of 57 in 1982.

According to Gomes, Baum was "a valued and active member of the Romulus Rotary Club that especially enjoyed working with the youth of the community."

The Rotary is expected to name the winner in the next few weeks. Applications and further information may be obtained by calling John Domas, guidance counselor at Romulus High School, at 941-2170.

Sesquicentennial salute

Romulus' 150th birthday celebration officially began last Saturday with ceremonies at Kennedy Park and later a gala Founder's Day dance that featured the frontier spirit. Among those on hand to formally launch a year-long Sesquicentennial observance were Pearl and Virgil Varner (above) while Shirley and Dean Burcroft (left) danced up a storm Saturday night during festivities at the Progressive Hall.

2 killed in crash

A Romulus woman and her two-year-old baby were killed last week when their car was struck head on by a 41-year-old Canton driver who apparently lost control of his automobile on Ecorse Road near Cogswell in Romulus.

Laura Sue Jesko, 23, was pronounced dead at the scene at 5:19 p.m. Thursday. Jacob Jesko, two, died at approximately 9:30 a.m. the following morning at the Mott Children's Center in Ann Arbor where he had been transferred from Annapolis Hospital.

According to Romulus Patrolman Dave Bush, Robert Paul Schenher of Canton Township was driving west on Ecorse Road when, according to witnesses, he allegedly ran off the road and onto the shoulder, then swerved into the east-bound lane and struck the car driven by Jesko. Schenher is listed in extremely critical condition at a local hospital.

According to police there were no skid marks in the 50 m.p.h. zone where the accident occurred. Bush also said that "no one was wearing a seat belt, which may have been a factor." He added that it took police more than two hours to cut Schenher out of his car.

Lucinda Gail Jesko, 27, was a passenger in her sister-in-law's car. She was listed in fair condition with two broken legs. Schenher was alone in his automobile at the time of the crash.

EMU, Romulus OK study

The Eastern Michigan University Board of Regents, at a special meeting in Ann Arbor last week, approved a contract with the city of Romulus and the College Board for marketing study of the demand for educational services by adult learners in the metropolitan Detroit area.

The contract is the result of negotiations between the university and Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally in an effort to involve EMU in providing educational services through a future Romulus Center in a 300-acre site north of I-94 and west of Merriman Road, adjacent to several existing hotels, presently under development as a management and conference center designed to serve the region's business and industrial community. A central part of the concept is a facility which would provide educational services to individual and corporate clients.

The marketing study will be conducted by the Office of Adult Learning Services of the College Board, located in New York City. It will include five components: a demographic analysis of the area within a 60-mile radius the proposed center; a survey of area adult learners and local and national companies to determine the precise nature of their demands for educational services; an analysis of educational services presently available in the area.

Belleville gets placement job

Belleville High School has added a part-time job placement coordinator to work with vocational students by helping them to find jobs.

The coordinator is Janet Linn, a business education teacher and Co-op coordinator who has been asked to assist vocational students that will graduate in June in finding permanent employment.

According to new funding regulations from the state of Michigan, vocational monies will be allocated on the basis of full-time employment in the area of vocational training. Belleville High School currently offers training in auto body, electronics, auto mechanics, building trades, clerical studies, distributive education, health occupations, machine technology, stenographic studies and welding.

"It is the aim of the placement program to provide services in two areas," noted Mrs. Linn. "The first would be to set up and keep, for a period of one year following graduation, an employment file for each vocational student. This file would consist of a current resume, grades and attendance records, and recommendations."

Mrs. Linn pointed out that students could use the file to aid in their job search. They also will receive training in filling out job applications and writing resumes."

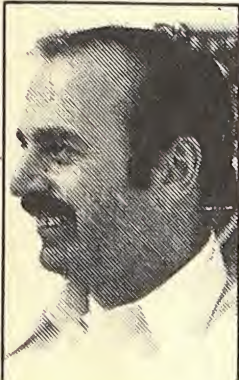

An attempt will be made to set up a pool of employers who might be interested in hiring students who have graduated from Belleville High School in vocational areas, according to Linn.

Any employer contemplating hiring new employees or who wish additional information about the program should contact Mrs. Linn. She can be reached at 697-9133.

Money problems

by TOM MOORADIAN

Is there a township or a municipality in this area that isn't having fiscal problems? I doubt it.

Is there a legislative body that would turn their backs on Community Development Grants or federal aid to their communities? It would be rare, indeed, if one would come forward.

Elected officials are hard-pressed to make ends meet. Take Sumpter, for example. We don't doubt it when township supervisor, Clarence Hoffman, says that "I am asking our residents to 'bite the bullet'". That translates into hard times are here, folks."

And they are. Although economists are saying that the nation is out of its financial doldrums, that things are better for us all. But, in fact, more than 10 million unemployed will argue that point. Reagan earned his re-election because the country felt it was better off today than it was four years ago. But, Yes, there is that 'but' the townships and municipalities continue to feel, like the average citizen, the money crunch.

The paradox is there. The mystery of the 'real state of the union' continues to perplex most of us.

But one thing for sure Reagan will get his MX missiles, and federally-funded programs will go up into outer space probably never to be seen again until the year 1988.

Let's get back down to earth. Here's a post script about the Fischer Library story that appeared on the front pages a week ago. The article stated that Sumpter may pull the plug on the library's plan to hook up into the computer age. Here's Doris Temple to tell you more:

"The article leaves the impression that I asked the Sumpter Board to hand over $2,045-plus for the new computer system and above their regularly budgeted library funding," Temple says. "This is not so. The work that the Tri-Community Commissioners did over the past three years - Burma Wertz of Belleville, Marilyn Montgomery of Van Buren - and myself representing Sumpter Township was instrumental in generating a surplus of funds for the fiscal year 1984-85. This surplus was a little over $27,000. These excess dollars are to be shared among the three communities with Sumpter receiving $9544 of this surplus."

Temple points out that WOLF (Wayne Oakland Library Federation) presented the Tri-Community Board with a financial status of the library and proposed the implementation of the new computer system. Van Buren and Belleville have gone along with the proposal.

"My recommendation to Sumpter is to invest part of the surplus ($2,045) and the credits of $7500 for use at their discretion. A windfall and with 20/80 percentage split, I felt it was a pretty good deal," Temple says.

And I am sure that the two new members of the board (clerk Joan Oddy) and treasurer Tom Gondek) are not aware how the process of sharing library costs have been done between the three communities for many years. In reality, with both Van Buren and Belleville approving the project, the approval by Sumpter is just a formality.

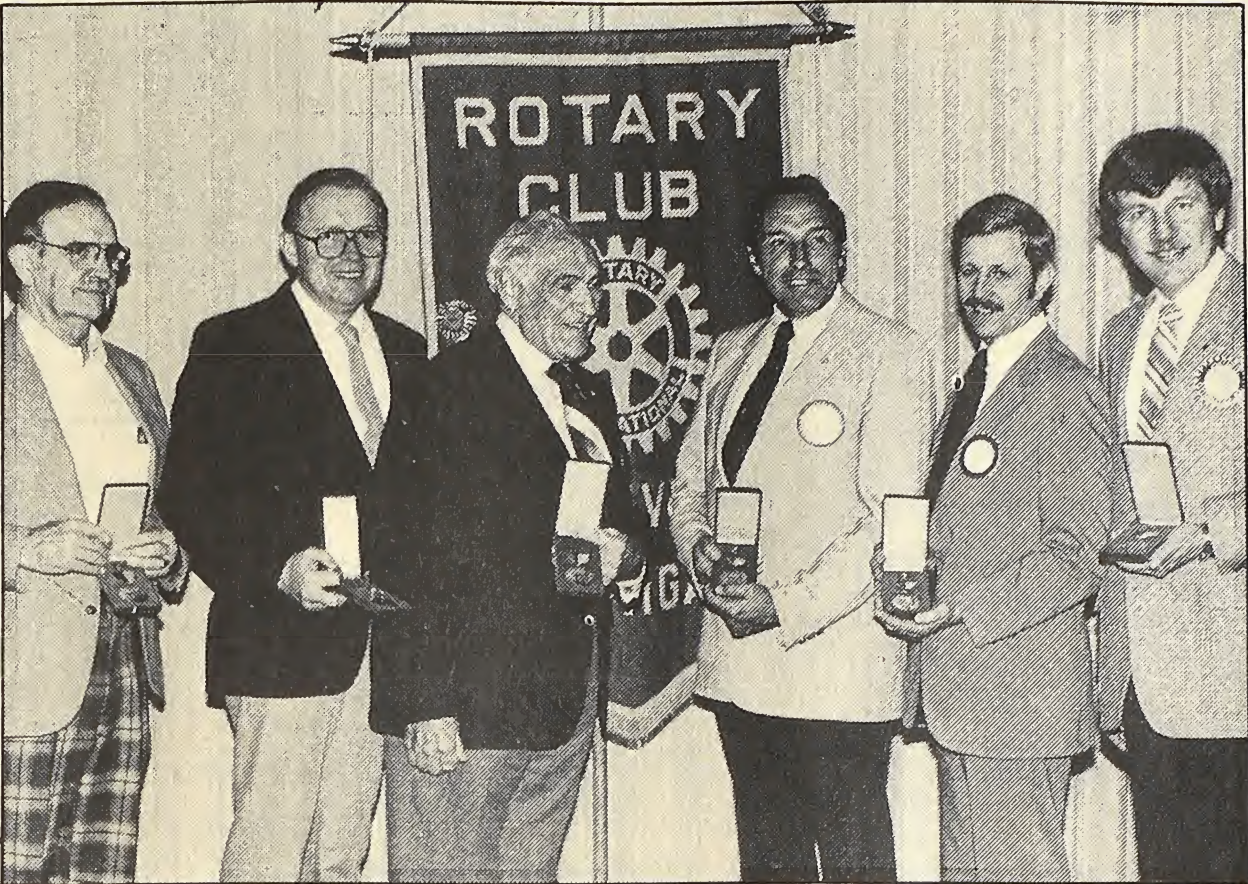

"If the implementation is made, Sumpter will be automatically billed.

Temple says she will stand behind her recommendation.

But, although I would agree with her that anything the communities do to open new horizons at the library, the board left the impression that it has better things to do with the money.

And that's unfortunate.

Six members of the Belleville Rotary Club display the medals they received from the Rotary International Foundation in recognition of donations of $1,000 or more to the foundation. Honored were Roy Pettus (from left) Jerry Kelly, Elton Gollwitzer, Don Juchhartz, Peter Quenet and Keith Bruder. The Belleville Rotary has raised $23,000 during 1984-85 for the foundation. The Rotary Club has meetings all over the world.

It was an obvious April Fool's joke. But, as it is in many cases, some didn't see it that way. Last week, in 'Dateline Romulus', there was a sentence or two telling readers that the city's legislative body, the City Council, had scheduled a meeting in one of the local pubs. That just wasn't so.

The council did meet on Monday, April 1, but councilmen met where they have for years in the council chambers.

For those who didn't see it that way, we sincerely regret the inconvenience it caused and please accept our apology. For those who chuckled and had their April 1 laugh. Thank you.

The Bethany Bible Church is located at 810 E. Huron River Drive near the east city limits of Belleville.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to join the congregation, says the Reverend John Losen.

Five local civic organizations have pooled their resources this year to stage the colorful Easter Egg Hunt. The 'hunt' will be conducted from 2 to 4 p.m. April 6 in Belleville's Victory Park.

Sponsored by the Belleville Order of Moose, Lodge 924, Belleville Lions Club and the Belleville Jaycees, children and toddlers up to the ages of 9 years old are invited to participate. The first group, up to 2 years old, will begin the hunt from 2 to 2:30 p.m.; 3 to 5 year olds will take to the field at 2:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. and those between the ages of 6 to 9 are scheduled to search out the eggs at 3 p.m.

Jeffrey S. Harris has been named manager, Internal Audit, at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, it was announced this week by A.T. Evert, assistant vice president for Finance.

Harris, 30, who has been at Oakwood since October 1984, was previously systems and controls analyst. In his new position, he will be responsible for developing internal audit procedures and conducting audits and reporting results with recommendations pertaining to policies and controls.

Harris received his master's in business administration from Eastern Michigan University and is a former Belleville resident.

Belleville High's Media Center is a very busy place these days. And literally for thousands of good reasons. The Media Center contains 17,061 books. Library officials also say that the library subscribes to 16 daily, national and state journals and newspapers and to 101 different magazines monthly. Some magazines are dated back to the 1920s (National Geographics). For research, there is a microfilm division. Records show that there were 25,000 students using the library in a span of a three-week period.

News also was received here that the widow of a former Belleville judge passed away in Cape Coral, Florida on March 19.

Winifred M. Coleman, whose husband, Judge Coleman, served on the judicial bench in Belleville during the 1940s, was the mother of Rose G. Dunkel and Laurel D. Roberts, both of Florida. Mrs. Coleman was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Belleville. She had nine grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Junior High bands earn firsts at festival

Both the Romulus Junior High School Concert and Symphonic bands received the coveted First Division ratings at the District XII Band Festival on Saturday, March 16. For the 78-member Symphonic Band, the "1" rating was the sixth in a row at the District level. The 60-member Concert Band achieved its second consecutive "1".

The three Judges in the concert section each awarded the Concert Band a "1" rating which when complied with a "2" in sightreading yielded the final first Division rating. Director Richard Kruse was impress with the Concert

Bands performance. "We had very formidable adjudicators at Northwestern University and another is the former dean of the music school at Michigan's State University."

The Symphonic Band received a "1" from all four judges at the festival and was one of only two bands (out of 15) to achieve this distinction. The Symphonic band performed in class "A" Junior High and the Concert Band in Class "C" Jr. High.

Kruse also noted that "the new Senior High auditorium, where the Festival was held, is just a super place to perform. The people of Romulus can be proud of our musical groups and the excellent performance facility we now have." He also wished to thank Mrs. Robbins and her parent helpers for running the kitchen cooperation in such a successful manner.

Both Bands have voted to attend the State Band Festival on May 4. Principal Nick Tottis also wished to congratulate the students on their musical achievement.

Allergy testing

Achooo!
At least 60 million Americans—one in four—reportedly are allergic to something, ranging from pollen to various kinds of foods. The symptoms of an allergy often are the same as the signs of a cold: itchy eyes, runny nose, scratchy throat and sneezing.
Beginning this month, residents of Western Wayne County can uncover their allergies through an innovative Multiple Allergy Test System (MAST) that is being offered at Med-City, a medical and dental clinic located at 8010 N. Wayne Road in Westland. Developed and patented in California, the painless, 10-minute test is being presented for the first time in the Midwest.

This screening program is capable of determining reactions to more than 40 airborne and food allergens from a sample of a patient's blood, according to the test's developers, MAST Immunostystems.
The allergy tests are given during normal office hours at Med-City, which are from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Persons can call the clinic at 522-2229 for an appointment.

Med-City is located on Wayne Road, between Cowan and Joy.

Students at Romulus High School recently participated in a tasty promotion that resulted in a $500 donation for class projects.
The teen-agers matched eating skills in a Hamburger Enjoyment Contest sponsored by McDonald's of Romulus, 9777 Wayne Road. The objective of the competition, held during the entire month of February, was to score points based on food purchased at McDonald's. Following the contest owner Tom DuCharme donated $500 to the various classes for school projects.
The junior class captured first place and received a $250 cash prize, followed by the freshmen, $125 prize; seniors, $75, and sophomores, $50.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson
"I CAN'T STRAIGHTEN UP!"
You reach for something on a low shelf. Feel a stiffness as you struggle to get up? You move heavy objects. Feel pain when you try to straighten up? You may have back trouble, which afflicts some 8 out of 10 people. It can be uncomfortable or crippling!
You need not suffer. Your chiropractor is a back specialist who uses modern procedures and diagnostic aids to locate the exact area of misalignment and pain. Treatment is gentle. Comfortable manipulative adjustments are designed to adjust subluxated or fixed spinal or pelvic segments which interfere with normal function and health. Physio-therapeutic methods are often utilized to help stabilize spinal structures and relieve nerve-muscular vascular disturbances.

Time for celebration

The sesquicentennial birthday celebration for the City of Romulus has officially begun. Ceremonies conducted last Saturday at Kennedy Park formally signalled the start of a year-long celebration commemorating the 150th birthday of the Romulus community.

Obviously much has changed since that first town meeting 150 years ago in the home of James T. Pullen. Throughout the coming year Romulus residents will pay tribute to those who have helped shape the spirit of the community, including the civic, business, school, church and political leaders from the 1800's up to the present day. A number of events will help citizens reflect on the history of the area now known as the municipality of Romulus.

As Romulus marks its sesquicentennial year, it also is a time to look towards the future. From our vantage point, it appears to be a bright future for the City of Romulus.

In the coming years we look for continued industrial and commercial development in the city, which appears ready to capitalize on its resources, notably the airport and the proximity to the freeways.

Now that voters have shown their faith in the public school system by approving an equitable millage rate, we hope to see continued improvement in the education of the city's youth.

We see a bright future because we are convinced that the greatest resource in Romulus, its people, possess a real determination to succeed, despite any obstacles. It is the spirit of a city's residents that ultimately will prove the difference between the complacent community and the progressive one.

Hopefully the next 150 years will find Romulus to be among the progressive cities in Michigan. The potential for growth and prosperity certainly exists here.

We join with neighbors and communities throughout the state in extending our best wishes to the people of Romulus as they mark their sesquicentennial birthday. It truly represents a time of civic pride for all residents of the community.

No strippers

To the Editor:

In reply to a letter appearing in the March 20 issue from Michelle Porcero, I would like to thank her for helping us let your readers know we at Town N Country Lanes have a policy against the performance of strippers.

We established this policy after many complaints from other customers and in compliance with a Newsletter Bulletin issued by the Bowling Proprietors Association urging members not to allow this kind of thing because of past incidents that resulted in many serious problems for others.

Ms. Porcero's complaint about the "man behind the counter" being "rude" is subject to question. The man is, we proudly announce, Mr. Denny Haas, our most able, efficient and personable assistant manager. We can produce hundreds of customers who will attest to this. We even have a few who were there on the night in question who said they did not see any evidence of "rudeness."

The letter further complains we do not have a sign posted revealing our policy. This is true. You got me there. We also don't have signs posted prohibiting the walking of your dog on the lanes or playing high stakes poker on the concourse, etc. It isn't practical to post signs for EVERYTHING.

We regret that "Dad," a member of the Garden City Knights of Columbus bowling league, did not get his birthday gift and I am sincerely sorry Ms. Porcero lost her money. I don't, however, notice anything in the letter demeaning the company which took her money and gave her nothing in return. The fact that the stripper had to come from Warren is of no consequence.

We support our policy and are elated that our customers can feel safe and secure in bringing their children with them even at 11:30 Friday night. This is a family sport and yes, we do feel children of all ages are a big part of our business. We have leagues for them all week long.

Ms. Porcero, we would like to have your children in our leagues and even have spots for you. We have these summer leagues coming that - - -

Dealing with grief

To the Editor:

You recently presented a special section featured inside the paper. The topic was "Death a part of Life". Sue McDonald must be commended on the article she wrote, dealing with grief.

I recently lost my husband. It has and still is a problem to absorb the idea of death and dealing with it. After reading the article it gave me a better outlook on things and I am able to discuss, and understand things much better.

To the Editor:

We at Health Alliance Plan would like to thank Photographer Lothar Konietzko for his great photo coverage. It was a fun evening for all, especially for the children he so brilliantly captured in his photo story.

The children and HAP will have his photos to commemorate the event.

Healthy Health-o-rama

To the Editor:

Oakwood Hospital Canton Center and Plymouth-Canton Community Education Department would like to thank the 104 volunteers who gave their time and energy to help us with Project Health-O-Rama. We had the best Health-O-Rama ever; almost 1,300 community residents took advantage of the free health screening and blood tests. This represents a 300 percent increase over last year's total of 400. Those who participated in the health screening paid many compliments to the volunteers who worked so diligently to make this event an incredible success.

Everyone who volunteered should feel great pride that they contributed to the betterment of their community. Many of the Health-O-Rama participants were given referrals to physicians; perhaps that early detection of a potential health hazard will make a difference in the quality of their lives.

Against pornography

To the Editor:

While I hear from people in the Romulus area talking about the terrible scenery of pornography magazines available at local small food and drug stores I read nor hear of any actions being taken in efforts to stop their sale.

Why you may say is nothing being done to stop this? Ask yourself the same question but do something yourself.

For a good store does not have to offer pornographic magazines to stay in business and corrupt the morals of our young people.

The blame falls to the citizens themselves. Speak up!

Opposes bills

To the Editor:

I would like to know why Bill 899 went through our legislature and was signed into law with the utmost secrecy. Not one person in 50 ever heard of it. I don't believe the legislature has the right to tell me what is acceptable to see in my own home.

Now in their wisdom they are going to make sure some police officer will be killed with a so called cop killer bullet. What nonsense!

Then there is a rumor about a bill to tell an employer whether or not the employer can fire a worker.

It's no wonder we need a part-time legislature.

K of C appeal

To the Editor:

Members, families and friends of the 72,000 Knights of Columbus in Michigan will be soliciting donations from the public to assist the mentally retarded children and adults in the state through a wide variety of programs.

Over nine years the program has been in operation, almost $6,000,000 has been collected for this worthy cause, including a record high of $957,000 in 1984.

We thank everyone for their past support and once again solicit everyone's cooperation.

Presidential immunity

It has only been successfully intruded upon once, and that was during the war of 1812, when the British ravaged and burned it.

The home of presidents is a place people around the world fantasize about visiting. "The White House" is a symbol to the citizens of this great nation.

Two weeks ago, I paused and looked across Pennsylvania Avenue at the front of this large white structure. Walking directly in front, back and forth, was a lone picketer. His sign proclaimed, "Stop Israeli Terrorism." The guards tended their gate stations, tolerating, but certainly not ignoring this unwelcome intruder. The guards have become accustomed to intruders, it seems.

Amidst the budding cherry blossoms and passing tourists, this building stands, something akin to the Alamo. Since the last time I saw this magnificent structure, renovations of the "front side" seem to have taken place. It appears that the rebuilding is well underway, but that the final work has not been completed, leaving the exterior looking less than white. Something else, however, is most notably different. Concrete barriers now stand along Pennsylvania Avenue to ward off attacks by "unwelcome guests". Why the need for such precautions around this place where people many years ago could drop in freely to visit when they were in town? Perhaps it is the times in which we live.

According to a report on television the other day, 15 million tourists visit this historic landmark each year. Most are only allowed to enter through from the lower rear entrance, pass by roped-off rooms, walk on carpet runners and prohibited from taking any interior photos. Tourists are divided into small groups, closely supervised and prevented from pausing to enjoy the magnificence of this large house.

Living areas and functioning office areas are strictly off limits.

Several times now, I have had the privilege of visiting both the inside and out and have come to appreciate the beauty and importance of this elegant building. For this is the place where our president ponders the problems of the world and makes decisions that may determine the course of civilization. From here, our president holds court, and meets with royalty and leaders from around the globe. Here, too, he seeks sanctuary with his family from those who would see him dead.

Security remains tight even when special groups are guests in the presidential mansion. All are carefully screened ahead of time and sent engraved invitations which must be presented to the guards. All purses and camera bags are thoroughly inspected and all guests are escorted through the metal detector arch. For some special guests, most barriers and restrictions are removed. No more carpet runners to pass through the red, blue or green rooms. Rather, they are invited to make themselves at home and sit on the historically significant furniture, each piece with a story connected to it. Photographs are allowed.

When the president enters to greet his guests, he is always surrounded by Secret Service agents--men whose eyes never stop moving--constantly searching for something that isn't right. A far cry from the days when old Harry S. Truman would march out the front gate for a brisk walk through the streets of D.C.

An announcement now has been made of a $500,000,000 plan to close Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House to traffic by diverting it through an underground tunnel. Extravagant, you may surmise. It

Fling or no fling

My mother often cautioned me that discussing sex, politics or religion could get me into trouble. She never warned me about cow chips.

Don't laugh. In Canton Township, cow chips and controversy have become synonymous terms, with community leaders bravely and brazenly crossing political party lines, and even putting friendships on the line, to take personal stands on the issue: to fling or not to fling.

The dispute surfaced after it was learned that the Canton Country Festival board banned the annual Cow Chip Fling, in which participants compete in hurling dried cow manure "chips" in an open field, from this year's festival activities.

Reasons for the ban? According to the festival committee, the invitation-only event (President Reagan graciously declined last year) drew negative comments from citizens concerned about the township's image.

Unprofessional and lacking in dignity, those offended by the event insist. Good-humored fun, fling supporters counter.

While I'll admit that the humble fling doesn't reach the glamorous heights of, say, a mud-drenched game of tug-of-war or donkey baseball, I do think it adds to the country charm of Canton, one of the few communities that can still boast sunsets untorn by power lines and fields large enough to fling cow chips in.

I don't find those images incompatible with the image of the township as home to thousands of professional men and women, and refuse to believe that a librarian, board member, county commissioner or state senator are less professional for having proved their ability to enjoy themselves.

On the contrary, kindness and the ability to find and, if necessary, create humor in a grim world are qualities that separate the true professional from the vast majority of imitators.

The question, festival committee members insist, is not who is right, but which view reflects the majority of the township's opinion. The festival board president plans to conduct a random telephone survey, she says, to determine how most Canton residents feel.

I don't doubt the board's sincerity, but I do question their neutrality. For one thing, I have yet to find anyone, other than festival committee members, who doesn't admit to having an opinion about the cow chip fling. Saying 'It doesn't matter' about the cow chip fling is akin, I think, to offering the same response when asked whether you want anchovies on a pizza. You either love the idea or think it's disgusting. (No one, of course, wants cow chips on their pizza).

Also, since it seems an inherent part of human nature to elicit, or at least find significant, responses that mirror our own, I suspect that survey results will reveal less an accurate sampling of public opinion than a confirmation of what surveyors expect results to be.

Although I fear the fling is forever doomed, I would hope that the committee would compromise by allowing the event to continue another year, perhaps offering families an invitation to participate and surveying festival visitors at the site.

Short of that, perhaps a temporary renaming of the festival is in order, at least until the majority of the community decides whether its country roots are to be a source of pride or shame.

In the meantime, those concerned with the township's image may rest assured that the predominately emerging image is one of neither professionalism nor down-home charm, but confusion.

Brief case toss, anyone?

is difficult, at best, to evaluate the price we should pay to preserve the health and well-being of our president and his family. Those who have had the security of their homes violated, a common occurrence these days, should appreciate the feeling that follows an incroachment by an intruder. I identify with the cost paid when a violator succeeds in their quest for fame or vindication for one cause or another.

I recall listening to Jim Brady, Reagan's presidential press secretary speak to a group of publishers in Washington not long before he was struck by a bullet intended for our president. Today Brady is but a shadow of his former self. I remember as well as so many of you will, the emotional distress of the nation and on each of us individually when President John F. Kennedy was murdered. His tragic death left us shaken, threatened and uncertain as to our future as a nation.

Outside the White House, as I sat for a few minutes on a park bench facing this home of the presidents, I reflected on all that was within my field of vision. Signs are everywhere, lending a circus-like, yet threatening atmosphere. "You've gone from mad to nuts," ... "Wanted, wisdom and honesty" ... "If genocidal weapons are peacemakers, then Adolf Hitler was a saint" ... "Live by the bomb, die by the bomb," the signs in front of me read. They purport peace...but there is a hostile tone.

While pigeons make themselves at home on the statue below, which is inscribed, "To General Lafayette and His Patriots, 1783," sightseers stroll up to the iron gates encompassing the 1600 Pennsylvania complex. They peer up toward the oval office window on the second floor, glance admiringly at the fountain flowing gracefully on the lawn, snap photos through the bent bars that allow a camera lens to catch an unobstructed view...and then they move on.

A bag lady lies sleeping on a bench nearby. Some of the unusual-looking people I see, I'm later informed, live for years on the streets and particularly in this tiny park. Past the house, cabs whiz by with their passengers, bicuclists pedal along, trucks and motor homes and buses rumble down Pennsylvania.

All too often we read of similar traffic that would normally appear innocent enough. But in such places as Beirut they sometimes conceal a bomb or other weapon of destruction. In the hands of a "man with a mission" the White House and our president could be vulnerable.

In times like these when we have to protect our students in schools from harm using security guards and metal detectors, isn't it appropriate that we take every precaution to prevent harm to our first family? If the president were ever to be taken hostage, we would be a nation held prisoner.

Sad that such elaborate and costly defenses are necessary, far worse if we do not take such steps and come to regret our inaction. Our president must be protected and given immunity from intruders into his safe harbor called the White House.

We live in dangerous times...let us act appropriately. See you next week.

Marchant Stadium has been the winter home of the Detroit Tigers since 1966.

Tigers try to rekindle spirit in sunny Lakeland

By JAMES RACKLYEFT
Special to ANP

(Racklyeft is a photographer for the Associated Newspapers)

Eight light towers form a gigantic circle as they rise starkly into the lucid blue Florida sky, above a beautifully kept baseball park. It is 10 o'clock on a Sunday morning. A glorious row of flower gardens and palm trees parallel the line of people awaiting ticket sales for today's 1:30 game. Within the stadium, ushers are busy dusting off seats, media people are seeking interviews, and players are chasing fly balls in the plush outfield grass, as the hot Florida sun climbs higher and higher over the right field fence.

The ball park is Joker Marchant Stadium, in the City of Lakeland, the spring training camp of the World Champion Detroit Tigers.

Here at Marchant, the dry, warm air mingles with an emotional atmosphere of excitement and anticipation of the 1985 season. At last year's camp, there was a similar sense of eagerness. "Last year we were hungry, we wanted to go out and prove to everybody what we could do," says Tiger pitching ace Jack Morris. "This year we're just gonna have to prove it again."

How has winning the world championship changed the Tigers' attitude?

Darrell Evans, the Tigers' first high-priced free agent says, "It seems like the attitude is the same as it was last year before we were the world champions. We just have to put the excitement back out on the field again."

Some players feel that the excitement and determination of last year will carry over into '85. "We are looking forward to getting our (World Series) rings," says utility infielder/catcher Marty Castillo. "I think the excitement will return."

Morris doesn't want the team's attitude to differ this year because: "The other teams in the league don't care what we did last year. They're out there to try to beat us and that's what we're gonna try and do to them."

A group of 10 Tiger fans meet every year in Lakeland for exhibition season action. Dick Wylie, retired Grand Traverse County Sheriff and spokesperson for the group, is pleased with the team's spirit this spring.

"Usually, when you're King, you play defensive," says Wylie. "But these guys are playing like they didn't win last year - like they finished third."

"A lot of times after a ball club wins it all - or even a pennant - they are a little different the next year," observes PASS broadcaster Larry Osterman. "They get wound up in all the publicity, they're not as personable, or they don't have the time to spend with the media and the fans. But these guys are taking everything in stride and I'm very impressed with them."

From Osterman's booth in the stadium press box, shimmering Lake Parker can be seen clearly over the center field fence. Lake Parker is the largest of 10 lakes in the city surrounding Marchant Stadium.

Lakeland, a 19-hour drive from Detroit, is more than the Tigers' winter home. The city's $13 million civic center offers ice shows, rodeos, major concerts, and the Miss USA Pageant.

The sprinkler system at Florida Southern College may surprise wandering visitors. The Lakeland campus is strikingly beautiful, featuring acres of cool, green grass, giant palm trees, sparkling fountains, and fine examples of Frank Lloyd Wright architecture.

A 1-hour drive to either coast, 100-year-old Lakeland is the geographic center of the largest population base in the state. A drive around Lake Hollingsworth reveals spacious homes resembling those in the Golfview area of Dearborn. According to Jerry Engle, President of the Chamber of Commerce, Lakeland residents "enjoy an excellent quality of life and are very proud."

Many of these residents flock to the city's major attraction in the sping - the Tigers' camp.

The Tigers have trained at Lakeland since 1934, first at Henley Field and since 1966 at Marchant Stadium. Adjacent to the 12-acre tract on which the stadium is situated is Tiger-town, the Tigers' minor-league training site since 1953.

Marchant's cement, single-deck grandstand seats 4,075, including 450 box seats. The Tigers' record at Marchant is 153-113-1, and 867,798 fans have paid to see Grapefruit League games played here.

The question that is on the minds of fans and players alike is whether the Tigers can win it all again. Despite the great season last year, no player had an outstanding year with the exception of ace-relief pitcher Willie Hernandez. Darrell Evans, who finished last season with a disappointing .232 batting average with 16 homers, says that everyone on the team realizes that there is room for improvement and that they can conceivably perform even better this year. "There is no doubt that we have the talent to do it again," says Evans.

New pitching coach Billy Muffett thinks that the team has an edge this year because of winning the championship last year: "They're a close knit ball club," says Muffett. "They know what they have to do. They've been through it before and they're ready to do it again."

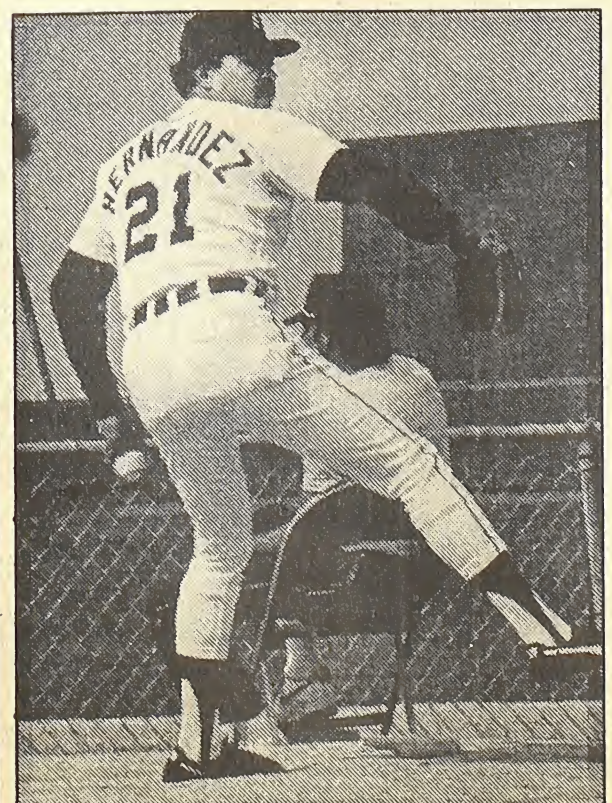

"We realize not many teams repeat a world championship," says utility player Tom Brookens. "But we are the only team who has a chance to do that. We feel confident, and if everybody stays healthy we should have just as good a year."

The general consensus here at Marchant is that the Tigers are playing in baseball's toughest division, due to improvements in the New York, Baltimore, Boston, and Toronto ball clubs. However, Detroit is stronger than ever, with starters looking to improve and talented rookies like Mike Laga, Rich Monteleone, Randy O'Neal, Chris Pittaro, and Nelson Simmons all striving to make the trip north. In balmy Lakeland, Florida, winning is in the air once again. An atmosphere of excitement and optimism dominates the camp.

Perhaps the most optimistic person here is long-time radio voice of the Tigers, Ernie Harwell, who had this to say: "It's probably the best time of year. Everyone is ready. The players are all gonna hit .300, the pitchers are all gonna win 20, and the announcers aren't gonna make any mistakes."

Although feeling the effects of being a superstar, Tiger catcher Lance Parrish is still loyal to his fans, as he takes time out to sign autographs.

Cy Young award winner Willie Hernandez hopes for another outstanding season.

Members of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council were at Annapolis Hospital last week to present newborn T-shirts to infants in recognition of the 1985 Girl Scout Week. The T-shirts, which bore the slogan, "Future Girl Scout," was given to all baby girls born between March 10 and 16. Making a presentation to

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss! Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is

Hoffmans mark silver jubilee

Seventy-five friends and relatives recently helped Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoffman of Inkster Road, Romulus, celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

The celebration was held March 9 at the Congregational Church of Gibraltar and hosted by the couple's brothers and sisters.

A dinner of ham, chicken, meatballs and salads, as well as a three-tiered wedding cake was enjoyed by the celebrants and their guests.

A money tree, a handcrafted wooden planter, afghan and gas grill were among the gifts the couple received in honor of their silver jubilee.

Ninety guests were in attendance recently to help Lillian and Louis Kish celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

He is a former tool and die maker, and she is a former employee of Associated Newspapers Inc.

Present for the celebration were three members of the original bridal party, Mrs. Kish's AIRLINE CAPTAIN "BACKS" FLIGHT ATTENDANTS!!

Dear Letter Writer:

I am a Captain with a major commercial airlines. Four of our flight attendants were dismissed for what I would consider "no cause." I feel very bad for two of the young ladies and would like you to write a letter to the President of the airlines.

Sincerely, DWT

Dear Airline President:

Recently, your airlines terminated four DTW based flight attendants, one or two days prior to the expiration of their probationary periods. Two of these flight attendants, AH and BB are personal friends of mine. Both were shocked beyond belief when they were handed an envelope containing a termination letter. No explanations were given and their personnel files were unavailable for examination. During their probationary periods, neither girl had experienced problems on the job, nor were they ever given counseling regarding problems or areas needing improvements. When you took over as President and Chief Operating Officer of the airlines, you stated that one of the company's greatest assets was its fine group of employees. Does termination of an employee immediately prior to expiration of probation, with no explanation or prior warning, constitute fair treatment or proper management of this asset?

AH is a very attractive, 23-year-old brunette or medium height. She has a very nice smile and is always immaculately groomed. To state that AH is conscientious and takes her job seriously is almost an understatement. On one occasion, AH's car broke down and a taxi failed to arrive, as prom-

(313) 455-8892. Due to space constraints, the original "request" letter to The Letter Writer is always shortened in this column.

... ised, causing her to be late for a flight. To my knowledge, this is the only blemish on her record and certainly represents a situation that could happen to anyone. She is a good flight attendant and co-workers find it difficult to believe that she was terminated.

BB is a slender, very attractive black woman, of above average height. BB, too, has a very nice smile and is always immaculately groomed. She has never missed a trip and has often flown on her day off to help crew scheduling when they were short of flight attendants. BB relates very well to passengers and is well liked by her peers. Minority hiring considerations aside, BB's termination would be a loss for our airline.

At a time when the company is striving to improve its image and performance, pleasant, nice-appearing reliable flight attendants would seem to be a high priority item. AH and BB certainly fit this image. With flight attendants currently in short supply, it would be a shame to terminate two dedicated employees.

All of us at the Airline realize that you are putting in long hours in your quest to return us to profitability. Despite your busy schedule, I hope you might find time to meet with AH and BB, personally, with a consideration toward reinstatement of their employment. We need more flight attendants like these two ladies.

Sincerely, DWT

RESOLUTION: The airline captain this letter was written for is based in Washington. Thus, I have been unable to determine what, if anything, the letter accomplished. AH and BB, however, must be taking some solace in the fact that the "pilot" stood up for them.

'Bad Jess' restores 1950's race car

A vintage modified-coupe race car, restored by Jess Austin of Wayne, has been tabbed as the official pace car for the Michigan Challenge Cup race series.

This race car from the 1950's will roar to life again on Memorial Day as it paces the field for round one of the three-race series for late model stock cars at the Flat Rock Speedway. Time trials are scheduled for 1 p.m. with the first race set to start at 2:30 p.m.

"The car sat there for over 20 years," explained Austin, a former stock car driver in the Michigan-Ohio area who bought the machine after discovering it in a barn located

"It's one of those cars that was put together in the backyard. You just made a few changes and added a few things and went racing."

near his business J & D Auto Parts.

"The roll cage was made of thin tubing and the roof was just a piece of tin. It's one of those cars that was put together in the backyard. You just made a few changes and added a few things and went racing."

The coupe originally was built in the early 1950's by Floyd Curtis of Wayne. Chuck Bartello drove the vehicle, which was entered in competition at the Flat Rock Speedway.

"It's exciting to have a car that ran at Flat Rock when the track first opened," Austin said. "We're very honored the car was selected as the official pace car of an event such as the Michigan Challenge Cup." Dubbed the "Chev-T" by Austin, the coupe recently received runner-up in the Vin-the Vintage Race Cars category at the 1985 Autorama in Detroit.

"It should bring back lots of memories to some old-time fans and even to a few of the drivers who still run at Flat Rock," declared Austin. "We've restored every piece on the car to its original location. The rear-end sits above the frame rails and a Chevy engine powers the coupe. The intake manifold and exhaust pipes were home-made."

One unique aspect of the car is the location of the fuel tank, found under the driver's seat.

"That's just one small example of how much racing has changed over the years," mentioned Austin, who is known by the nickname "Bad Jess."

The fast, sleek late models will headline the program at Flat Rock with a dash, heats and three 50-lap feature events. Odd and even-numbered qualifiers will compete in separate 50-lap events with the top 10 from each event moving into the finals.

Street stocks also will be in action on Memorial Day on the quarter-mile, pave oval. Qualifying, heats and a 20-lap feature are planned. The top two finishers from four heat races will advance to the main event.

The winner is guaranteed $200 and a starting position in the 6th annual National Street Stock Championships on Sept. 14 and 15 at Flat Rock.

Local talent

Inkster vocalist Franchie Joy is scheduled to compete in the Showdown, sponsored by Budweiser and WDRQ, at 7 p.m. April 4 at Henry's Palace in Detroit. Judged as one of the top 10 songwriters in the Detroit area by local judges, Joy will be competing for an opportunity to release a record of her original song and sound reinforcement equipment. The local contest winner will advance to the regional competition.

Show geared for youngsters

Other Things and Garden City. The action show, geared for children ages four through 12, will be preceded by mime, dance, puppetry and theater at 6:30 p.m. April 9 at the Mapewood Community Center, 31735 Mapewood, 525-8846.

Army MP captain decorated
An Army captain, serving on full-time duty with a Detroit-area Reserve unit has been awarded an "Oak Leaf Cluster" or second award, to the Army Commendation Medal. Capt. Richard J. Hosler of Belleville was given the award by Brig. Gen. William H. Reiff, commanding general of the 300th Military Police Command, Inkster, in a ceremony March 2. The presentation was made at the Command's headquarters on Beech Daly Road.

Hosler received the award for his work as assistant adjutant-general of the 300th, and his efforts to streamline procedures for submitting and recording the officer evaluation reports that are submitted annually.

"OER's have been a sore point for some time in the Command," said Reiff, "But Capt. Hosler took control quickly, and with a lot of work on his part, put together a system that others can emulate."

Hosler graduated from the University of Montana in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in sociology, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the military police through his participation in the Reserve Officer Training Corps. He served on active duty until 1979, with service in Korea and Hawaii.

In addition to his university education, Hosler is a graduate of the Infantry School and the basic and advanced Military Police School officer courses.

Hosler returned to active duty in 1984, and was assigned to support the 300th MP Command. He moved to Belleville from his former home in Pulaski, Tennessee. He is the son of Mrs. H. M. Hosler of Pulaski.

Hosler resides with his wife, Gretchen and sons, David and Michael. The family attends Trinity Episcopal Church in Belleville.

Putting together a winning combination in any sport demands a lot of know-how and discipline and Wayne Memorial's Chuck Henry had what it took to produce a championship team. His Zebras not only captured their first Wolverine A Conference title, but they also won the Holiday Tournament and first Class A district crown in nearly two decades. Henry was awarded a post-season honor as The Associated Newspapers presented him with "Coach of the Year" accolades.

Wayne cage coach is 'No. 1' in area

Somebody once said that the second time around is often easier. For Coach Chuck Henry of Wayne Memorial High School, that second time around was indeed easier. Completing the second year of his second tour of duty with the Zebras, Henry led his squad to a 21-2 record and a perfect 12-0 in the Wolverine A Conference. For his efforts, the ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS has awarded the 35-year-old Henry its Coach of the Year Award. Henry attributed his success to many factors including that

Former Marquette University coach and now NBC-TV commentator Al McGuire always speaks of one ingredient necessary for a successful basketball team — an "aircraft carrier" or the big center. The 1985 Associated Newspapers All-Area team has not one "aircraft carrier" but two — Terry Mills of Romulus and Pollis Robertson of Wayne Memorial. Both players were highly instrumental in their team's success this past season and are the featured performers on this year's squad. Perhaps the best description for both Mills and Robertson would be to describe them as the "Enterprise" of aircraft carriers in Western Wayne County. Mills, the 6-9, 200-pound junior pivotman, is making his second appearance on the All-Area team. After a sophomore year in which he averaged 23 points per game, Mills came right back this season to average 28 per contest. Coach Al Wilkerson, whose squad has posted consecutive 19-victory seasons with Terry in the middle and has reached the regionals each year, is extremely proud of his big man. "Terry is an excellent player who brings out the best in his teammates. He is very unselfish and is always willing to give up his own shot for a higher percentage one." Mills had a career-high 43 points against Taylor Center, three shy of the school record held by his uncle, John Long, now of the Detroit Pistons and a former All-Area performer as well. But he did become the Eagles' all-time leading scorer, breaking the record of still another uncle, Nate Davis. If his offensive stats were impressive, consider his defensive numbers: 11.7 rebounds a game and 165 blocked shots in 23 games. For all his efforts, Mills was voted All-State by both the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press, All-American by Parade Magazine and Basketball Weekly, he had so many letters coming from various colleges that he was thinking of applying for his own zip code. If Mills wowed 'em in the Metro Suburban Conference,

Terry Mills

Robertson dazzled 'em in the Wolverine A. The 6-6, 215-pound center led the Zebras to a school-best 21-2 record and a perfect 12-0 league mark. Robertson averaged 20 points a game this past year in leading his team to their first district title in 24 years. "Pollis is a young man who has great jumping ability, and has worked very hard," said Wayne head coach Chuck Henry. "He is a model as a leader and as a team player." Robertson scored his career

Hallmark of champ 'strong bench'

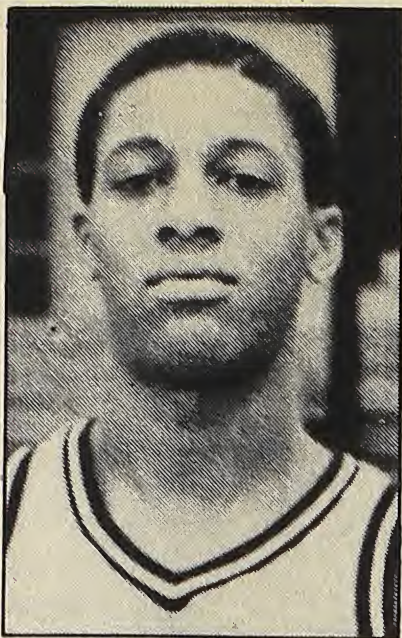

By KEITH A DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

As any basketball coach will tell you, an important ingredient for the success of any team is a strong bench.

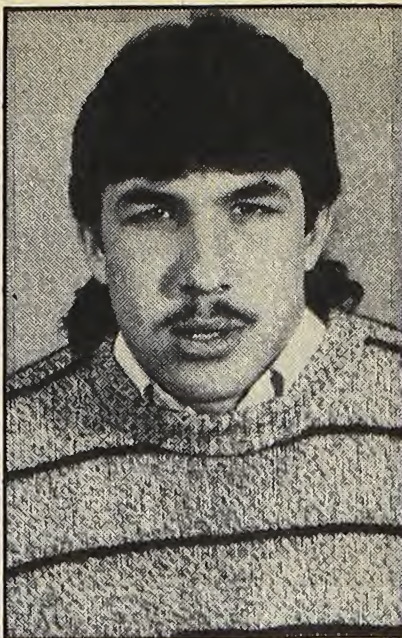

Ask Wayne Memorial's Chuck Henry and he will surely tell you that the Zebras could never have been 21-2 without the likes of Alvin Allen and Mark Robinson.

Ask Romulus' Al Wilkerson and he will say that their trip to the regionals could not have been realized if it had not had players like Avery Jones, Kenny Jones, and Bill Johnson.

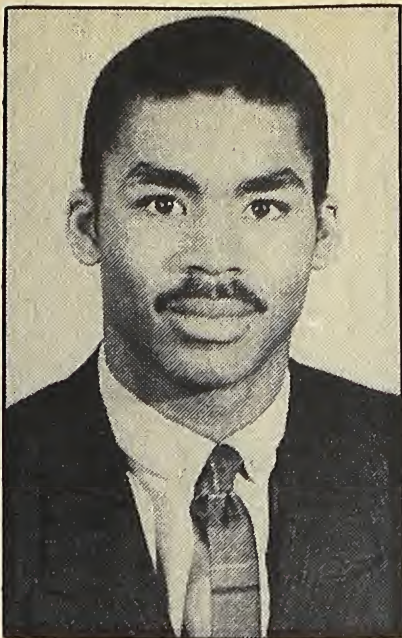

The 1985 Associated Newspapers' All-Area squad is no exception - the five players selected to the second team are a great complement to the All-Area first team and certainly

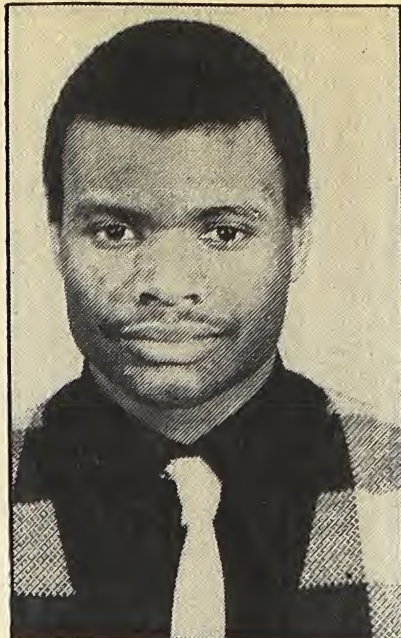

Juan Street

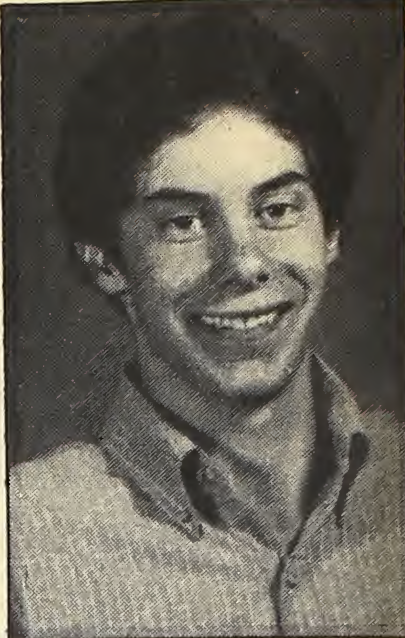

Scott Hille

Mike White

LeSean Haywood

would be a delight for any coach to have on his bench.

When All-Area center Terry Mills needs a rest, LESEAN HAYGOOD would be the person to turn to off the bench. The 6-5 Plymouth Salem pivotman was, according to the Rocks' Bob Brodie, "a workhorse inside, despite being defended with a box-and-one most of the time." Haygood averaged 12.9 points a game, but his main task was to clean the glass which he did at a 13.9 clip.

Flanking Haygood is one of the forward spots is Livonia Churchill forward SCOTT HILLE. He was a prolific scorer this past year, averaging 17 points per game. But he also can rebound, averaging 8 caroms per contest, and certainly made Chargers' coach Don Albertson's job much easier.

At the other forward spot for this team is 6-5 sophomore JUAN STREET of Romulus, a player that Wilkerson described an "excellent outside shooter that works well inside." Street averaged 11.1 points per game this year and will be a part of the Mills-Glenn nucleus that returns intact next year. No wonder Wilkerson is smiling these days. But Street has only begun to scratch the surface of his talents or as Wilkerson said, "with work, he'll be an excellent player."

The two guards on this team are products of the Plymouth-

Canton School District: JOEL MIES (Plymouth Canton) and MIKE WHITE (Salem).

Mies, only a junior, was named to the first team, in the Western Lakes Activities Association and is, according to his coach Dave Van Wagoner, "a really good player and very intelligent." Mies, who averaged 12.6 points and 6 assists per game, will be counted on to lead the Chiefs next season. Mies also added another dimension to his game, that of rebounding, and averaged 5

caroms per contest this season.

White is the pure shooter on this squad and could shoot the lights out if given the chance. As it was, he averaged 14.6 points per game, with a season-high of 21. Brodie called White "a complete player with all the tools". He certainly proved that with 23 (count 'em) blocked shots and an 83% free throw accuracy. White proved his worth to the team when he led the Rocks to a near-upset of highly-regarded Wayne in the district tournament, only to lose on a last-second shot in double overtime.

This, certainly, is one second team any coach would love to have to send into a game - a center who can rebound and score, two forwards who can score at will, a point guard who has the ability to find the open man, and a guard who can shoot the lights out - 5 young men who contributed greatly to their teams' success in 1984-85.

Another post-season honor for Henry

lent but cited his team's "desire to improve their skills in the summertime, the advanced basketball tech class which helps the players improve their skills from September to June, and great support from the administration."

After spending a year as head coach of the Zebras in 1977-78, Henry left Wayne to become head coach at Dearborn Divine Child. Here, in his five-year tenure, he honed his coached techniques and built a reputation as a coach of a tenacious defense, a patient but effective offense, and teams that refused to quit.

In 1983, Henry returned to Wayne as head coach and began to build the foundation for this year's squad. Posting a 15-6 record, Henry and his team discovered a lot about each other.

And what they found they like as exhibited by what happened this season. Reeling off 15 straight victories before succumbing to a tough Ann Arbor Huron squad, the Zebras achieved all four goals they had set when the season began: winning the league title, the Christmas Tournament, the City Championship game against Westland John Glenn, and the district title.

"On the surface, it's more fun to win than to lose," said

Henry as he analyzed his team's season. "Records fell along the way, goals were achieved, and there was a good attitude. There were no discipline problems whatsoever and a positive approach prevailed."

As for next year, Henry was enthusiastic. "We'll have a good year. We have good talent. I think the enthusiasm of this year will carry over into next. The kids are really motivated. It'll be an exciting team."

Henry teaches physical education at Adams Junior High School. He attended Monroe Community College, Findlay College (Ohio), and Eastern Michigan University, where he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees. Henry, his wife Margie, and four children reside in Westland.

St. John's proves they're best

Posting an enviable 12-2 won-lost season, St. John's Elementary School boys' basketball team emerged with the Southeastern Michigan Lutheran Athletic Conference basketball championship. It was the first time in 10 years that the Westland-based school had captured the coveted crown. Members of the team include: Chris Lonske (front row, from left), Matt Stobb, Justin McKarge, Jason Kiper, Chris VanSant and Jason Donald; second row are Steve Alexander, Aaron Chambers, Peter Mears, Anthony McGruder, and coach Tod Bartholomew; while the girls' from the school chalked up league titles in both basketball and volleyball. It was the second consecutive championship for the girls who were led by Ginger O'Brien(photo below, front row, from left), Stacy Guiles, Karen Inman, Tami Brown, Kristi Wisniskie, and Patti Benett. The volleyballers made history this year by claiming their first league title thanks to the coaching of Coach Lori Bartholomew(back row, from left), Tonya Banners, Heather Ohlsson, Andrea Piontek, Jenny Dengel, Sheila Page, Jenny Fiife, Theresa Williams and Coach Tod Bartholomew.

ANP cage line-up: Among nation's best

(Continued from Page 1-c) high of 32 points against Monroe and also pulled down 19 rebounds in another contest. The senior center averaged 13 boards a game and will take his talent to Wisconsin next year. If Mills and Robertson can score points at will, than Howard Flowers can score against anybody. The 6-2 senior forward was a perfect complement to Robertson, averaging 18.5 points a game. While Robertson worked the inside, Flowers took care of the outside with his perimeter shooting. It's no wonder the Zebras had the opposition baffled this year. Just ask the Rockets of Westland John Glenn and they'll tell you Flowers can shoot (he scored 16 in the second quarter against them) or Detroit Southwestern when Flowers nearly single-handedly pulled out the victory in the regional with 29 points. Henry knew of his forward's ability saying, "He's an excellent jump shooter but he's also strong enough to take it inside, too."

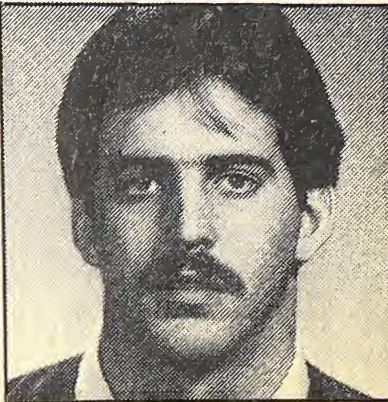

To get the ball to these three forwards are two of the finest guards to play the game in this area: 5-11 Mike Baydarian of Westland John Glenn and 6-0 Stevie Glenn of Romulus. Baydarian, a three-year starter for the Rockets, averaged 18 points a game on the season and accumulated over 700 points in his career, ranking him third on the all-time Glenn scoring list behind only Daran Armstrong and Dave Carlington. Coach Gordie Davis of the Rockets had high praise for his guard. "Mike was the heart of our team. Besides his scoring, it was his penetration and assists that were valuable to the team. He's one of the all-time best at Glenn." Baydarian was deadly from outside and fans will remember his jumper for a long time, as they will remember his pinpoint passes inside to one of his forwards. Romulus fans, too, have a similar type guard in Glenn, and they, too, will remember him as a great clutch shooter as witnessed by his two game-winning baskets in the waning seconds of games this past year. He averaged 16.2 points a game and 5.3 assists on the season. Wilkerson had praise for his junior guard not only offensively but especially defensively. "Steve's a great defensive player. He's impressive in terms of leadership on the floor. He's going to be one of the better point guards in the state next year." With Mills and Glenn returning next year, along with most of the rest of the team, Wilkerson has to be smiling in anticipation of that season. McGuire would be proud of this team, what with two "aircraft carriers", a high-scoring forward who's not afraid to put it up, and two "icemen" for guards who can shoot the lights out. This is a team that can go "coast to coast."

Suida heads for Finland

Former Westland John Glenn football star, Rob Suida, a student assistant football coach at Ferris State College and an ex Bulldog quarterback, will join the Northern Lights Ferris team in Oulu, Finland as a player-coach. "I will be playing quarterback as well as serving as an offensive coach," explained Suida, who will return to Ferris as a graduate student to FSC coach Dan Underwood. A four-year football letterman at Ferris, Suida threw for 535 yards and three touchdowns as a senior and earned the "Coaches' Award" for his contributions to team unity and spirit. He was an all-Northwest Suburban Conference and Associated Newspapers' selection as well as given all-state consideration during his prep career at Westland John Glenn. The Northern Lights football team will play Alma College in the first annual "Arctic Bowl"
